Learning for Life, Anchored in Christ

Hello everyone,

I hope you have all had a lovely week off, and have enjoyed watching the sparkling fireworks and crackling bonfires! I hope you are all well rested, as we have a lot of learning and fun planned for this half term. The teachers have been extremely busy transforming the reading areas to link to the new topics for this half term. In Year 1, they have created an enchanted woodland. In Year 2, they have taken a trip to Puddling Lane, and linked their reading area to 'The Great Fire of London.' In Year 4, they have created an Anglo-Saxon village to prepare the children for their exciting learning this half term. Year 6 have a wonderful Victorian Parlour to relax and read in, while Year 5 feel they are in space when they are sitting in their reading area. I am really excited about the half term ahead! Please take a look at the blog on the school website to see all the exciting learning that is taking place.

Have a happy and safe weekend!

This half term sees us introduce our new Jigsaw topic 'Celebrating Difference'. Valuing others and celebrating our differences is something we are proud of at St. Clement's C.of.E Academy. Academy staff attend training throughout the year to help them deliver a range of exciting lessons encouraging children to be tolerant and show understanding to others. Within the Academy we have a range of policies and procedures that aid the whole school community in working together. Next week we will be celebrating 'Anti-Bullying Week', which is a subject taken very serious, as the Academy has zero tolerance for bullying of any sort - race, gender, sexuality, religion, disability or age. If you would like more information about the work being carried out in the Academy or to discuss/view any policies please see a member of the School Leadership Team or you can view the school website at www.stclemce.bham.sch.uk/website
