Police Community Consultation

9:30am Tuesday 12th July

This session can be attended by anyone in the local area.

Parent's and Carer's E-Safety Session

2pm - Thursday 14th July

We are inviting all parent's and carers to this session where we will look at different websites that are potentially harmful for the children and how we can keep the children safe and educate them of the dangers of a range of online content.

It is important as many parents attend the workshop as possible as the children are at an age and stage where they are exploring online content independently and making choices based on what they are seeing and hearing.

Our values focus this half term is Humility

Hello everyone,

This is my first message for the school newsletter so I thought I would take this opportunity to introduce myself. My name is Miss Fieldhouse and I will be the new class teacher in Year 1 in September.

As a new member at St. Clement's, I am very excited and I can't wait to start with my new Year 1 children, in our new year 1 classroom!

I am currently working in Reception and really enjoying my time so far. I have had lots of fun getting to know all the children and for them to get to know me too. We have had a busy time, learning all about sharks have been busy making jellyfish for our new story Who swallowed Stanley? I am looking forward to continue working with the children as we come to end of a busy term.

Have a lovely weekend.

UNICEF Rights of the Child

We were given the opportunity to attend an Unicef celebration today. Children from the Unicef steering group as well as a few other children represented our school. There were a variety of performances from schools throughout Birmingham. Performances included dancing, acrobats, singing and acting. It was a wonderful experience to be around other wonderful schools who are also on their journey to be an accredited Rights Respecting School. We finished off the morning enjoying a refreshing ice cream treat.

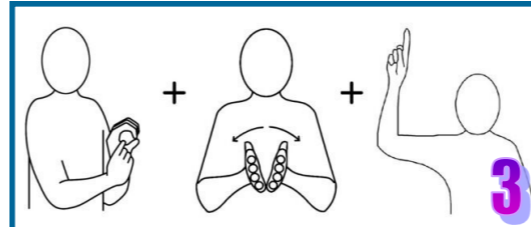

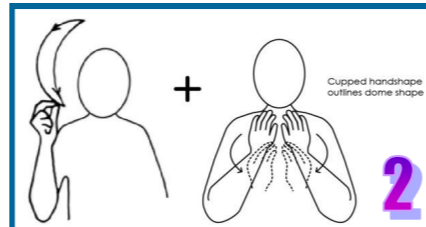

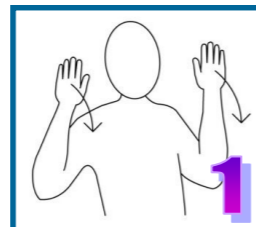

Article 38: Protection in war

Children have the right to be protected during war. No child under 15 can join the army or take part in war.

This week Muslims are celebrating big Eid.
Can you remember what each one of these signs are?
Answers are on the back of the newsletter

St. Kitts Information Day

Lincoln from the Sports Hub in Perry Bar has been talking across the school about our Commonwealth country - St. Kitts and Nevis. He has some inside knowledge as that is where he is from! The children have asked a wide variety of questions and have enjoyed finding out about another country. Not long now till the Commonwealth Games start in Birmingham, and we are all very excited.

What facts and information did you learn today?

Safeguarding...

Forced Marriage

You have the right to choose who you marry, when you marry or if you marry at all.

Forced marriage is when you face physical pressure to marry (for example, threats, physical violence) or emotional and psychological pressure (e.g. if you're made to feel like you're bringing shame on your family). Forced marriage is illegal in England and Wales. This includes: taking someone overseas to force them to marry (whether or not the forced marriage takes place) and marrying someone who lacks the mental capacity to consent to the marriage (whether they're pressured to or not).

You can apply for a forced marriage protection order if one of the following applies:

- ♦ you or someone else is being threatened with a forced marriage
- ♦ you're in a forced marriage

The order will be designed to protect you according to your individual circumstances, for example to stop someone taking you out of the UK.

Relationship Abuse

Relationship abuse is a pattern of abusive and coercive behaviours used to maintain power and control over a former or current intimate partner.

Abuse can be emotional, financial, sexual or physical and can include threats, isolation, and intimidation. Abuse tends to escalate over time. When someone uses abuse and violence against a partner, it is always part of a larger pattern of control. If your partner is abusing you, you may feel confused, afraid, angry and/or trapped.

All of these emotions are normal responses to abuse.

You may also blame yourself for what is happening. But no matter what others might say, you are never responsible for your partner's abusive actions. Relationship abuse is always a decision that a perpetrator makes to harm their partner. Relationship abuse is not caused by alcohol or drugs, stress, anger management, or provocation. It is the perpetrator's choice to be abusive.

The website Stop Relationship Abuse offers more information, support and contacts for people who feel they may be experiencing Relationship Abuse:

WOODLANDS ADVENTURE

Over the last two weeks children have had a great time at Woodlands Adventure. As you can see they enjoyed themselves canoeing, den building, completing the obstacle course and much more.
