Tuesday 2nd May - Normal School Day

Welcome back everyone!

Already it is the Summer Term and, on the horizon, we can see the Summer Holidays! The children - and staff - are all looking refreshed after Easter and are already working hard to ensure that they achieve the very best they can. Year 6 pupils are at the final stages of preparation for the SATs and I know that they will do themselves proud in those tests as they are keen to show how hard they have worked. A big thank you to all of their parents who have helped and supported them throughout their time at St. Clement's.

Year 3 visit BM&G to investigate Ancient Greece

On Tuesday, Y3 caught the train into the city centre to visit Birmingham Museum and Art Gallery to start our new topic 'Gods and Mortals'. This topic is based around the Ancient Greeks and Y3 will be finding out more across this half term.

At the museum we explored the Ancient Greek gallery, sketched some of the artefacts, and then worked with Sarah, the museum teacher to design an amphora pot with a geometric design. This design was then scratched onto a final piece to imitate the black figure technique. Afterwards we explored the red figure technique by painting an owl design, as a gift for Athena, the goddess of wisdom. Both techniques were used by the Ancient Greeks.

Finally, Sarah took us back to the Ancient Greek gallery to carry out a treasure hunt, where we found the Ancient Greek equivalents of everyday objects, e.g. a jug or mug. Y3 also found out more about each of the different gods and designed an offering for them.

A huge thank you to Miss San, Miss Minhas and Miss McLeod for accompanying Y3.
